REASONS FOR ALLOWANCE

The terminal disclaimer filed on 09/28/05 disclaiming the terminal portion of any patent granted on this application which would extend beyond the expiration date of Patent Numbers 6,900, 863 and 6,281,952 has been reviewed and is accepted. The terminal disclaimer has been recorded. Therefore, the obviousness-type double patenting rejections have been overcome.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claim 21 is allowed because none of the prior art discloses or suggests a transfective liquid crystal display device having the combination of the features "wherein light passing through the color filter associated with said light reflecting display section is reflected to again pass through the color filter, and light passing through the color filter associated with said light transmitting display section passes through the color filter only once" and "wherein transmittance with respect to the color filter is different between said light reflecting display section and said light transmitting display section".

Claim 26 is allowed because none of the prior art discloses or suggests a transfective liquid crystal display device having the combination of the features "at least some of said pixels each including a light reflecting display section and a light transmitting display section" and "wherein said light transmitting display sections are provided with color filters, and said light reflecting display sections are partially provided with color filters".

Art Unit: 2871

Claim 31 is are allowed because none of the prior art discloses or suggests a transfective liquid crystal display device having the combination of the features "at least some of said pixels each including a light reflecting display section and a light transmitting display section" and "wherein said color filters of said light reflecting display sections have a transmission color of different brightness than said color filters of said light transmitting display sections".

Claim 35 is are allowed because none of the prior art discloses or suggests a transfective liquid crystal display device having the combination of the features "at least some of said pixels each including a light reflecting display section and a light transmitting display section" and "wherein said color filters of said light transmitting display sections have a transmission color of different chroma than said color filters of said light reflecting display sections".

Claim 38 is are allowed because none of the prior art discloses or suggests a transfective liquid crystal display device having the combination of the features "at least some of said pixels each including a light reflecting display section and a light transmitting display section" and "wherein said color filters compensate for differences in the brightness of said light reflecting display sections and said light transmitting display sections, respectively".

Claim 43 is are allowed because none of the prior art discloses or suggests a transfective liquid crystal display device having the combination of the features "wherein light passing through the color filter associated with said light reflecting display section is reflected to again pass through the color filter, and light passing through the color filter associated with said light transmitting display section passes through the color filter only once” and “wherein said color filters compensate for differences in the number of times light passes through the liquid crystal layer in said light transmitting display sections and said light reflecting display sections, respectively”.

The remaining claims are also allowed since they depend on the allowed claims 21, 26, 31, 35, 38 and 43.

With respect to claim 21, Van Aerle et al of record disclose in Fig. 8 a liquid crystal display device similar to that of claim 21 except that Van Aerle et al are silent about the feature ““wherein transmittance with respect to the color filter is different between said light reflecting display section and said light transmitting display section”.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”
